Acting Director Robin Kay, Ph. D., delivered an uplifting message of hope, wellness and recovery to the crowd and presented certificates of recognition for the support groups in Spanish project. The groups decorated the room and tables with colorful centerpieces, balloons and hand signs.

A mid-day serenade with a full Mariachi band entertained the crowd, attendees took advantage and got up to sing and dance together, forming Conga lines.

The Yosemite room at the California Endowment was at full capacity with standing room only. Attendees had a chance to visit resource tables, outreach booths in two separate display rooms, where client-made crafts, jewelry and art were available for purchase.
